Add opening paragraph:

“The Council notes that all London-based staff employed directly by the local authority receive a salary that is equal to, or greater than, the London Living Wage”.

Delete third and subsequent paragraphs then add

“The Council recognises that it awards its contracts on a competitive basis, taking into account the need to provide the best value for money and the best services for our residents, businesses and visitors. This can only be achieved with contractors who have high regard for their employees and their development, something which the Council actively engages on during the tender process. The Council acknowledges that this approach brings positive results, with 73% of people who live in Westminster believing that the Council is well run and 65% thinking that it provides good value for money, both of which rate well above the national average.

The Council commends the outstanding work of its committed and talented employees, along with the partnerships formed with contractors who deliver many valued services throughout the city. The Council will continue to set out clear expectations around employment during procurement procedures and to take its role as a civic leader seriously.”
