Dear Sirs

Re: Vanity Bar, 4 Carlisle Street, London - Application for a Sexual Entertainment Venue Licence

I thought it might be helpful to the Committee if I were to give an overview of the applications for variation of the Sexual Entertainment Venue Licence and of the Premises Licence. The committee will be receiving a plethora of papers but the application itself is straightforward. At the time of writing this letter the Agenda papers have not been issued and I am therefore unable to provide convenient page number references.

Within the papers will be a copy of the existing Premises Licence (14/00491/LIPDPS). The Premises Licence authorises the sale of alcohol from 09:00 to 03:00 the following day except on Sundays which are 12:00 until 12:30 the following morning.

The Sexual Entertainment Venue Licence (SEV) number 14/01806/LISEVT authorises "relevant entertainment" Monday to Thursday 09:00 to 23:30, Friday and Saturday 09:00 to 02:00 and Sunday 09:00 to 23:00 which entertainment is confined to the basement of the premises.

The purpose of the application as set out in the notice of application is to bring the SEV hours and area within the premises, to be coterminous with the Premises Licence. Therefore the application is in accordance with your policy

At paragraph 2.5.1 of the SEV Statement of Licensing Policy 2012 states –

“where a premises is licensed under the 2003 Act (Premises Licence) for hours beyond the “core hours” the council will have regard to those hours and generally grant a SEV licence to the hours authorised for other licensable activities, subject to the provision of a winding down period if appropriate. Where a proposal is made to operate outside these “core hours” each application will be considered on its merits and with reference to the policy aims and objectives”.

Other proposed changes to the licensing conditions, whether they are for the SEV licence or the Premises Licence are consequential changes or provide additional conditions which flow from the stated objective of matching the SEV to the Premises Licence.

SEV licences were introduced by the Policing and Crime Act 2009 which then shoe horned the new SEV licensing into the confines of Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1982. Local Authorities were then able to adopt the legislation in relation to existing premises which offered lap-dancing (referred to in Westminster as “premises with a waiver of rule 4”). The existing Premises Licences all had provisions which dealt with the (sexual) entertainment and those conditions were copied onto the new SEV licence.

Applying for the new SEV Licence did not require any variation of the Premises Licence and therefore many Premises Licences (such as these in question) had similar conditions on both the SEV licence and the Premises Licence. In these circumstances Licensing Authorities were instructed that any conditions on the Premises Licence were to be of no effect where there was a similar condition on the SEV licence. In order to try and accommodate the legislative provisions Westminster adopted the practice of putting a box around any condition on the Premises Licence which controlled the sexual entertainment and annotating the licence “conditions indicated shall not apply when a Sexual Entertainment Licence is in effect at the premises”. Guidance anticipated these conditions being removed as variation of the Premises Licences being made. We have therefore removed those conditions from the Premises Licence and I will endeavour to explain those variations at the hearing.

We wanted to make it clear to the Committee from the outset that the applications are confined to achieving the purpose mentioned above, which is to bring the Sexual Entertainment Venue Licence in line with the Premises Licence. The volume of papers would belie that, but the Committee is asked to confine the application as being made for that purpose only.

Doubtless the committee will wish to read all the papers before the hearing and I will not go over the merits of the application here. I propose to do that at the hearing and address the committee in relation to other Policy considerations.

I mentioned above that the nature of the application fell squarely within Policy (2.5.1). That the application is in the spirit of the Policy and can be found in the Mission Statement. As can be seen from Mr. Hugh Matheson’s representation the application Premises was operating as “The Dolls House Striptease and Nude Review” prior to 1985, cheek by jowl with other commercial uses and some residential accommodation.

The Mission Statement states:-

“we want to make sure that Westminster continues to offer a wide choice of high quality and well managed entertainment and cultural venues within the safe, orderly and attractive environment; valued by those who live here, work here and come to visit”.

We have provided photographs which show that Carlisle Street offers a wide choice. From Carlisle Street junction with Dean Street is a traditional Soho public house, the Nellie Dean, next to that is the application premises which, in more recent history, operated as a lesbian lap-dancing club and late bar. Next is a hairdressing salon and next to that the head office of the magazine Private Eye. Next is a non-descript commercial premises which is then next to VISIBLE and then, the Nadler Hotel. An alleyway then separates the hotel from money transferors/or lenders and then after a non-descript premises (probably empty) is the iconic Pizza Express Jazz restaurant which is on the other side of Dean Street.

In a nutshell the application is brought to bring the SEV Licence in line with the alcohol Licence because the existing SEV Licence is so restrictive that a Sexual Entertainment Venue could not survive commercially. Reality dictates that if it can't operate as an SEV it will have to make full use of its Premises Licence and trade as a late night bar (without entertainment) to 03:00.

We hope that this overview is helpful to Committee.

Yours sincerely,

On the Matter of Vanity Bar – Application for a Sexual Entertainment Venue Licence
Premises Licence under the Licensing Act 2003

WITNESS STATEMENT OF MANPAL SINGH

My name is Manpal Singh and I am a Director of the Nag's Head Limited, the Applicant of the above mentioned matter. I have been involved in the licensed trade for 13 years. I have gained substantial experience with licensed premises as part of my family's business, and I have personally operated five out of their seven premises. I currently run four licensed premises, one of which is a Sexual Entertainment Venue in Tower Hamlets, the Nag's Head. This particular premises has been in my family for over 30 years and has operated as gentleman's club since 1986.

I identified Vanity Bar as a great opportunity to operate a similar premises in an exciting location in Westminster, in the heart of the entertainment capital. Soho has a long history of striptease and sexual entertainment and operating Vanity Bar is an opportunity to bring a comparable, well managed venue to the area. Angel's Bar, situated on Wardour Street (W1F 8ZH) is approximately 165 metres away from Vanity Bar and currently has an SEV variation application open for consultation with Westminster. Sunset Strip (W1D 3SA) is approximately 147 metres away on Dean Street, and have a SEV renewal currently open for consultation. La Capannina (W1D 3AL) on Bateman Street is also located within approximately 172 metres of Vanity Bar and currently operates under a valid SEV.

I met with various officers of Westminster City Council and the Police on the following dates:

- 3 April 2014
- 18 July 2014
- 20 August 2014

There was also a site visit with Officers on the 9 June 2014.

Vanity Bar had been operating occasional sexual entertainment in the basement of the premises since 9 April 2014. On 10th July 2014, I was forced to suspend the use of the basement area as the Landlord was carrying out works to run new services (water mains, gas mains) through the basement area up to the flats he owns above.

Having considered the various representations received in relation to the application, I instructed Adrian Studd, the former head of the Metropolitan Police Clubs and Vice licensing unit and the Association of Chief of Police Officer's spokesperson, to prepare a report and I am adopting his suggestions in relation to promoting the licensing objectives. It is my aim to bring my experience of operating the Nag's Head to Soho.

My own experience of operating a gentleman's club has demonstrated that patrons arrive at and leave from the premises in an orderly manner. The average age of customers is over 30 years old, most of whom are professional people already working in the area. Such premises would not draw in patrons from further afield and, as such, would not bring additional stress to the area. Furthermore, Vanity Bar is located further into Soho, unlike similar venues such as Sunset Strip and Angels.

I will work in partnership with the police and licensing authority to ensure that best practice is maintained at the premises throughout its operation, and I hope that the conditions and policies proposed within the application can address their concerns.

The Applications for Consideration by the Committee

In essence, the applications before the Committee are intended to allow a late bar/nightclub as a Tableside Dancing Club.

The premises already benefits from a Premises Licence permitting, amongst other forms of Licensable Activity, the sale of alcohol from 10:00 to 03:00 Monday to Saturday and 12:00 to 00:30 Sundays. The Premises Licence also allows the playing of Recorded Music and provision of Private Regulated Entertainment, 24 hours a day. These permissions would allow me to run a nightclub from the premises. Indeed, when I was attempting to buy the leasehold of the premises, those competing against me were not interested in the existing Sexual Entertainment Venue Licence (SEV); rather, they wanted to make use of one of the "latest" Premises Licences in Soho. The application to vary the Premises Licence is made to allow lap dancing/striptease on all three floors of the premises, something currently restricted by Conditions 15 and 47:

15. Dancing and striptease shall only take place in the basement.
47. * Striptease entertainment may only be provided in the basement area of the premises.
(Please note: * Conditions indicated shall not apply when a Sexual Entertainment Licence is in effect at the premises)

Although the premises does hold an SEV, the scope of the permission is narrow, allowing Relevant Entertainment (Lap dance/Striptease) to take place only on the stage in the basement. The Premises has a long history of providing sexual entertainment but in the last years of operating as the Candy Bar, focused more on providing a late night drink led hang-out for members of the lesbian community, with striptease provided as a secondary attraction. By increasing the permission to allow Relevant Entertainment to take place on all 3 floors, I will be able to operate as a Tableside Dancing Club, rather than the high volume vertical drinking establishment the premises became.

Benefits of the Change in Operation

Adrian Studd speaks in his report of a number of benefits associated with moving from a drink led operation to one based on the provision of tableside dancing; I do not propose to reiterate those benefits here.

I would like to set out the specific benefits that these applications will bring to Carlisle Street. By moving to a tableside dancing model, I can create a viable business based on far fewer customers attending the premises at any one time. You will see from the conditions proposed at Appendix D, I have agreed to reduce the capacity figures on all 3 floors by 75 (55%). Specifically:

Current	Proposed
Basement - 70,	20
Ground Floor - 80,	70
First Floor - 25.	15

The second direct benefit to the Street is that, unlike many Soho licenced premises, tableside dancing clubs do not allow customers to drink on the street. I and other operators find that customers do not feel that they receive value from purchasing their drinks in such a premises and then standing outside to socialise with their friends. Previously, the Candy Bar attracted a large number of customers and noncustomers who would stand in the street socialising due to the nature of the premises as a social hub for the lesbian community.

Response to representations

I thank the Licensing Authority, Environmental Health, Police and local residents and businesses for their representations and I note their concerns in relation to our application. I hope to be able to address the issues raised below in light of the licensing objectives. I would also refer you again to the report by Adrian Studd.

- The prevention of public nuisance

I note that many of the representations, particularly those submitted by residents, raise the issue of additional noise from patrons causing a disturbance in the area surrounding Vanity Bar, as well as the vibrations that music inside may cause to nearby premises.

Within the conditions I have suggested as set out in Appendix D, Condition 34 requires that I ensure that "no noise shall emanate from the premises nor vibration be transmitted through the structure of the premises which gives rise to a nuisance." We shall also ensure that all equipment is maintained in good condition and in full working order to allow us to best manage any potential nuisance in relation to sound (Condition 30). I have also adopted Model Condition 11 in relation to noise limiters on the premises licence as Condition 14 to address the issue with noise emanating from the premises.

As for noise outside the premises, the adoption of a Street Management Plan, as referred to in Condition 10 of the Suggested Appendix D of the Premises Licence (Appendix A), will require patrons to remain inside the premises whilst waiting for taxis. Taxi drivers will be asked to turn off their engines whilst waiting outside the premises to prevent noise nuisance from disturbing local residents and businesses. Anyone wishing to hail a black cab shall be directed onto Dean Street to avoid causing a disturbance. Door supervisors shall be employed to monitor patron noise and actively discourage any unacceptable behaviour by patrons entering or leaving the premises. The Street Management Plan requires any patrons wishing to smoke to be directed to and remain in a designated smoking area. As supported by both Adrian Studd's report and my own experience as a licensed operator, patrons attending sexual entertainment venues are a more controlled and older than those attending nightclub venues.

We will also benefit from the presence of SIA-trained door supervisors at the Nelly Dean pub who can help to ensure we have better control of the immediate area on Carlisle Street.

As made clear by proposed Condition 31 of the Premises Licence, the capacity of Vanity Bar whilst the Relevant Entertainment is taking place is substantially less than permitted whilst the nightclub licence is in effect. Therefore, there will be no intensification of use and subsequent increase in number of patrons in the area outside the premises. The increase in hours of the SEV licence is to bring them in line with the current premises licence hours.

- The prevention of crime and disorder

Condition 9 of the SEV Suggest Appendix D requires that a licence holder or named responsible person shall be present throughout the time any Relevant Entertainment takes place. A comprehensive CCTV system and incident log shall allow the premises better deal with any potential crime in disorder at the present or its surroundings (Conditions 10 to 12).

Please also see my above point in relation to intensification of use and the limit on capacity at the premises.

In response to concerns in relation to the removal of Condition 30 from the premises licence and suitability of licensees, the National Entertainment Licensees Certificate is not available now, and therefore any changes to such provision was a modification to ensure that Vanity Bar had a fully qualified Personal Licence Holder on duty at all times.

- The protection of children from harm

As previously mentioned; Soho has a long history as a vibrant area for entertainment, including gentleman's clubs, and Vanity Bar is situated in heart of the area. I acknowledge concerns regarding the protection of children and I highlight Conditions 1 to 4 and Condition 6 of the proposed SEV licence which strictly prohibits any person under 18 from visiting the premises and the promotion of the proposed activities taking place inside. Relevant entertainment will not be visible from outside the premises.

I am aware that some of the representations received refer to the morality and potential exploitative nature of the operation of sexual entertainment venues. Whilst these issues do not form part of the licensing objectives, we have ensured that the welfare of performers and conduct of patrons are governed through the use both conditions and internal policies, which are fully compliant with Westminster City Council's Sex Establishment standard conditions. A Code of Conduct has already been submitted as part of the application and I have attached Vanity Bar's Customer House Rules and Performers' Welfare Policy (Appendix A).

Recommendations from Adrian Studd

Adrian Studd has made the following recommendations that I have incorporated within this application by way of condition:

- a) The adoption of a street management and dispersal plan. I have offered this as Condition 10 of the premises licence Appendix D.
- b) All incidents to be recorded in an incident log. I proposed this as Condition 12 of the SEV licence Appendix D.
- c) CCTV to be maintained to a standard agreed with police and to cover all areas where dancing will take place. Management to randomly review CCTV recordings of dances to ensure compliance with codes of conduct; a log of such viewings to be maintained. I have proposed this as Condition 11 of the SEV licence Appendix D and Condition 33 of the premises licence Appendix D.
- d) A dedicated hotline telephone number for anyone wishing to comment on the operation of the premises, which should be held by the duty manager whenever the premises are operational. Details of the number will be given to neighbouring residents. I have proposed this as Condition 29 of the premises licence Appendix D.
- e) Employment of an agreed number of SIA registered door supervisors to supervise key areas such as the entrance and areas where sexual entertainment is taking place. Proposed Condition 35 within the SEV licence

Appendix D requires that an SIA registered door supervisor be on duty on any floor that is providing Relevant Entertainment.

- f) A personal licence holder to be present at all times when intoxicating liquor is sold, supplied or consumed. I have adopted this as proposed Condition 30 in the premises licence Appendix D.

- g) Agreed Codes of conduct complying with, as a minimum, Westminster City Councils 'Sex Establishment standard conditions' to cover the behaviour of customers and dancers, the welfare of dancers and the discipline of dancers. A Code of Conduct has been submitted as part of the application and is specified by Condition 13 in the SEV licence Appendix D.

Adrian Studd has also made further recommendations in relation to the management of the outside area, which has been adopted as part of the Street Management Plan (see Appendix A).

I believe the facts in the above statement to be true.

Introduction.

I have been instructed to prepare an independent report in connection with the application to vary the premises and SEV licence at Vanity Bar and Nightclub 4, Carlisle Street, London, W1D 3BJ.

Personal summary – Adrian Studd.

I retired from the police service on 2nd November 2012 having completed 31 years exemplary service with the Metropolitan Police in London. Between January 2012 and my retirement, I was employed as the Chief Inspector in charge of licensing for the London Olympic Games 2012. In this role, I headed up a team of officers with responsibility for supervision of licensing compliance at all the Olympic venues, including the Olympic park. In addition, I was responsible for ensuring that any associated events were properly licensed, sufficiently staffed and operated in accordance with the licensing legislation and best practice in order to ensure the safe and effective delivery of the Olympic Games.

In addition to leading my team, I visited and worked with both the Olympic park management and many other venues, reviewing their policies and procedures and ensuring that the Games were delivered safely and securely. The success of this operation not only protected the reputation of the MPS but provided positive benefits for the profile of the MPS and the United Kingdom. I have been awarded an Assistant Commissioners Commendation for this work. Prior to this role, between Jan 2002 and January 2012, I was employed first as an Inspector and then as a Chief Inspector on the MPS Clubs and Vice Unit (Now SCD9 Serious and Organised crime command). My responsibilities over this period focussed on licensing and included day to day supervision of the licensing team that had a London wide remit to support the Boroughs with licensing activity.

Providing both Overt and Covert support for policing problem licensed premises across London, my team worked with premises when licensing issues were identified, in order to address these problems through the use of action plans in order to raise their standards. Where this failed, I would support the Boroughs with evidence for use at review hearings if required. I devised and implemented the MPS strategy 'Safe and Sound' which seeks to improve the safety of customers at licensed premises by reducing violent and other crime, in particular gun crime and the most serious violence. I also developed the Promoters Forum and risk assessment process, and together these initiatives contributed to an overall reduction in violence in London of 5% and of the most serious violence and gun crime at licensed premises by 20% whilst I was there.

From 2004 until 2008, my role included representing the MPS and ACPO licensing lead both in London and Nationally. In this role, I developed key partnerships with industry, NGOs and Government departments in order to improve the standards at licensed premises. I sat on the BII working party and helped develop the national training for Door Supervisors and worked with the SIA to successfully introduce the new regime within London. I sat on a number of Government working parties and worked closely with the alcohol harm reduction team on identifying best practice and ensuring this was used both within London and nationally by police and local authorities.

I have been involved with Best Bar None for a number of years and have successfully helped a number of boroughs to implement the initiative. I am a trained Purple Flag and Best Bar none assessor and, until my retirement, I sat on the Board for Best Bar None in the Royal Borough of Kensington and Chelsea. For the last five years, I have been in charge of licensing for the Notting Hill Carnival, the largest street carnival in Europe. During this time, I have contributed to a reduction in violence overall at the Carnival and delivered increased seizures of illegal alcohol, reduction of unlicensed alcohol sales and a reduction in alcohol related violence. In addition to the above, I have attended a large number of internal MPS training and qualification courses, and I am trained in conducting health and safety risk assessments and hold the National Certificate for Licensing Practitioners, issued by the British Institute of Inn keeping (BII).

Following my retirement, I set up a licensing consultancy to provide independent advice for premises requiring a local authority licence. Since then, I have provided evidence gathering services and advice to a broad range of licensed premises on a variety of issues, including crime and disorder, Sexual Entertainment, street drinking, rough sleepers, age related products, betting and gaming. This work has involved premises that benefit from licences for activities such as alcohol on and off licences, betting premises licences, SEV licences and late night refreshment. I have provided expert witness evidence at both local authority and appeal court hearings.

Contents.

1. Vanity Bar.
2. Sexual Entertainment.
3. Impact on Licensing Objectives.
4. Conditions.
5. Objections.

Vanity Bar.

- 1) I am familiar with the premises at 4 Carlisle Street, having conducted licensing visits a number of times in the past when it was known as Candy Bar. I went to Carlisle Street on 2nd October 2014 and observed the Vanity bar, which was not open, and the area.
- 2) The Nellie Dean public house next door was busy, and as it was a warm evening, customers were outside drinking. The premises are located in a busy part of Soho, close to the junction with Dean Street and its many bars and restaurants. At the far end of Carlisle Street is the Nadler Hotel.
- 3) I have been provided with copies of the applications and also the objections that have been submitted. I have considered the proposed variation and conditions from an independent, evidence based point of view.

Sexual Entertainment.

- 4) Between 2002 and 2004, as Inspector in charge of the Metropolitan Police Clubs and Vice licensing unit, I was in charge of a number of high profile investigations into premises that provided what would now be called 'sexual entertainment.' At the time, this was quite a new and developing form of entertainment and there were concerns about the impact such premises may have.
- 5) During the course of these investigations, my team and I visited a large number of such premises, not only in London but in some cases travelling across the country. Covert policing techniques were used posing as customers to observe behaviour of dancers and customers both inside and outside the premises.
- 6) In addition to this, I undertook research into crime patterns around various premises that were providing sexual entertainment as it had been suggested that levels of crime rose around lap dancing venues, in particular crimes of a sexual nature. However, despite extensive research, we were unable to identify an increase in crime of any sort attributed to such premises.

- 7) It is my experience, both as a police officer and as an independent licensing consultant, that a well-managed premises that provides sexual entertainment generates less crime, crime and disorder and nuisance than a traditional nightclub of comparative size. There are a number of reasons for this, including;
- Fewer customers when compared to a nightclub of similar size,
 - A high ratio of door supervisors to customers,
 - A more controlled, less crowded environment,
 - An older customer base more able to handle alcohol,
 - A more relaxed atmosphere, music tends to be at lower volume and slower tempo.
- 8) Queuing outside nightclubs is often encouraged by a club in the belief that it gives the premises a more exclusive feel. This queuing is often the cause of nuisance to residents and passers-by, particularly later in the night when customers may be arriving from other premises having already been drinking and are required to wait outside for admission.
- 9) Lap dancing clubs do not encourage queuing and customers are generally admitted quickly into the premises, minimising the potential for noise and nuisance outside.
- 10) Another common source of noise and nuisance at night clubs is the smoking area. With a traditional nightclub, this is often used as an opportunity for socialising between the sexes and after consuming alcohol these conversation can become loud, boisterous and prolonged. It is often the case that the music is so loud inside that conversation is hardly possible so it is only in the smoking area that it can take place.
- 11) In contrast, at a lap dancing venue the customers tend to be mainly male so there is less inclination to stand outside chatting. The music volume inside tends to be lower to allow conversation between the customers and between the customers and dancers, this makes it possible for customers to chat inside the club and goes some way to taking away the incentive to loiter outside the premises chatting and potentially disturbing the residents.
- 12) Para 2.4.8 of the Westminster statement of licensing policy recognises that Customers who have been seated in premises which are not crowded will behave differently; they are less likely to have been talking at a high volume and will leave the premises more quietly than the greater number of customers in equivalently sized premises without capacity limits and with more vertical drinking.

- 13) Lap dancing premises have a high ratio of seating for customers as it is a standard condition that customers have to be seated before a dance can take place; customers generally go to the premises for the entertainment rather than for vertical drinking. This and the generally more relaxed atmosphere make it easier for door supervisors to manage a swift and quiet dispersal with minimum nuisance to residents.

Impact on Licensing Objectives.

14) Prevention of Crime and Disorder and Prevention of Public Nuisance.

With a more controlled atmosphere inside and a reduction in areas that generate nuisance and friction such as queuing, it is my view that allowing this variation will lead to a reduction in noise, nuisance and crime and disorder related to the premises. It will therefore promote the licensing objectives of preventing crime and disorder and preventing public nuisance.

15) Public safety.

Public Safety will be enhanced due to there being generally fewer customers in the premises, the increased provision of seating, an older clientele, improved control inside the premises and reduced alcohol consumption.

16) Protection of children from harm.

Lap dancing premises very rarely have a problem with under-age drinking or young people attempting to gain entry. Maintaining a robust approach to age verification will ensure that this continues. Externally the premises are required to be discrete and conditions preventing flyers or any indecent displays or advertising will ensure that children are protected from harm and this objective is promoted.

Conditions.

- 17) I recommend the following best practice be put into agreed conditions;

- a) The adoption of a street management and dispersal plan.
- b) The smoking area to be supervised by a member of staff at all times the area is in operation.
- c) Notices shall be displayed at the premises near the exits asking customers to respect the venue's neighbours and leave quickly and quietly.
- d) All incidents to be recorded in an incident log,
- e) CCTV to be maintained to a standard agreed with police and to cover all areas where dancing will take place. Management to randomly review CCTV recordings of dances to ensure compliance with codes of conduct; a log of such viewings to be maintained.
- f) A dedicated hotline telephone number for anyone wishing to comment on the operation of the premises, which should be held by the duty manager whenever the premises are operational. Details of the number will be given to neighbouring residents.
- g) Employment of an agreed number of SIA registered door supervisors to supervise key areas such as the entrance and areas where sexual entertainment is taking place.
- h) A personal licence holder to be present at all times when intoxicating liquor is sold, supplied or consumed.
- i) Agreed Codes of conduct complying with, as a minimum, Westminster City Councils 'Sex Establishment standard conditions' to cover the behaviour of customers and dancers, the welfare of dancers and the discipline of dancers.

Objections.

I have been provided with the report from the Westminster Licensing sub-committee in respect of the application to vary the licence at Vanity bar and nightclub dated 23rd October 2014. This report includes Eleven (11) numbered objections plus objections from the Environmental Health and Licensing Service.

- 1) David Gleeson, Soho Society,
- 2) Councillor Glenys Roberts,
- 3) Alice Dugdale,
- 4) Robert Nadler,
- 5) Unnamed local resident,
- 6) Unnamed MP or Councillor,
- 7) Unnamed local resident,
- 8) Unnamed, local resident,

- 9) Unnamed local resident,
- 10) Unnamed local resident,
- 11) Unnamed Councillor,
- 12) Environmental health, Ian Watson and Ola Owojori.
- 13) James Hayes, Licensing Inspector.

1. Objector 1. David Gleeson, The Soho Society.

- 1.1 Mr Gleeson raises a number of objections relating to the promotion of the licensing objectives and improvements in the function and character of the city, or areas of it. In my view these objections are not supported by the evidence.
- 1.2 Prevention of crime and disorder and prevention of public nuisance. The premises is currently licensed for the sale or supply of alcohol until 03.00 Mon to Sat and 00.30 on Sunday and to open until 03.30 Mon to Sat and 01.00 on Sunday. This application does not seek to change that but to change the style of operation from a drink led bar and nightclub to one that offers entertainment with alcohol ancillary to that.
- 1.3 While trading as the Candy bar the premises regularly attracted 'celebrity' customers and queuing outside was encouraged as a sign of its popularity and exclusiveness. This style of operation inevitably leads to noise and nuisance outside the premises by customers waiting to get in, often having been drinking at other premises.
- 1.4 In contrast Lap dancing clubs seek to admit customers as quickly as possible with a minimum of queuing. This leads to a quieter environment outside the premises. Various conditions and policies to manage the external environment, include queuing, smoking and dispersal have been proposed that will reduce the noise or nuisance outside.
- 1.5 The change in the style of operation from an alcohol led bar to a table dancing club will reduce the potential for crime and disorder and public nuisance. Lap dancing bars operate in a more controlled environment than tradition nightclubs with a higher ratio of door supervisors to customers. Customers are required to be seated during the performance of dance.
- 1.6 It is acknowledged that customers who have been seated in a quieter, more controlled atmosphere are less likely to cause noise and nuisance on leaving the premises. Customers are attracted to the premises primarily for the entertainment and not just to consume alcohol, this leads to less drunkenness and reduces the potential for crime and disorder either inside the premises or when leaving.

1.7 Mr Gleeson states that having such a venue opened until late at night would disturb the general, harmonious peace. This does not appear to take account of the fact that the premises is currently entitled to operate until 03.30 and until recently did do so, as an alcohol led bar that regularly attracted noisy customers outside. As evidenced above the proposed changes will reduce the potential for nuisance and crime and disorder.

1.8 Whether or not a lap dancing bar will lead to improvements in the function and character of the city is a subjective view that will vary from individual to individual. The area around Carlisle Street provides a vibrant, busy and mixed night time economy. A well run lap dancing club will add to that mix and, based on the evidence of operation of such premises and my experience, will lead to a reduction in crime and disorder and public nuisance.

2. Objector 2, Councillor Roberts.

2.1 Councillor Roberts raises concerns about noise and disturbance from customers leaving the premises. This application does not seek to increase capacity of the premises or to extend the opening hours so in that respect there will be no change from the existing licence.

2.2 As stated previously the evidence indicates that a well-run lap dancing club generates less noise and nuisance than a regular night club. The application includes conditions and policies on management of the external environment that comply with best practice. These will ensure that the potential for noise and nuisance is minimised.

3. Objector 3, un-named resident of 4 Carlisle Street.

3.1 I understand the residents concern about internal noise transfer, in my experience lap dancing clubs tend to play music at a lower volume than regular night clubs in order that customers can talk among themselves and to the dancers.

3.2 I understand a noise expert and the environmental health officer have been consulted to ensure that the building is adequately sound insulated. The proposed increase in facilities for sexual entertainment inside the premises is not visible outside and will have no effect on residents in other parts of the building.

3.3 The residents highlight historical problems of noise and nuisance that have been caused at the premises when it was run as a drink led bar and club, these are common to such premises. The application to change the premises to a lap dancing bar, and the proposed conditions, will lead to a decrease in customers outside queuing, a decrease in those smoking and a generally much quieter and more controlled environment.

3.4 This resident highlights concerns about the premises operating as lap dancing bar while their niece is staying, in particular about men hanging around the front door. As previously stated customers at lap dancing bars do not hang around outside and are admitted and leave the premises quickly. There are new policies proposed, in line with best practice, to manage the external environment and minimise impact on residents.

3.5 The issues of late night transport from a premises apply whatever the style of operation and are equally applicable to the current premises as it is not proposed to change the closing time. The area is well served with public transport, including night buses. In general customers at lap dancing clubs tend to use their own or private hire cars or taxis. There is a management plan proposed that will provide for supervision of the environment and ensure potential for disruption in Carlisle Street is minimised.

4. Objector 4, MR Robert Nadler, Nadler hotel.

4.1 Mr Nadler refers to the proposal to remove conditions 32 and 34 from the existing licence. These require substantial food to be available during permitted hours and puts restrictions on who can be sold or supplied intoxicating liquor after 23.00. It refers to a Special Hours Certificate under previous licensing legislation.

4.2 These conditions do not have the effect of requiring all customers at the premises after 23.00 to take a table meal but require only that substantial food is available during the whole of permitted hours and that customers who are not eating have to pay the admission charge.

4.3 Following discussion with police I understand that agreement has been reached that conditions 32 and 41(e) will not be removed but will be suspended when the premises trades as a lap-dance club. This has the effect of ensuring that the provision of alcohol will always be ancillary to either lap-dancing or music and dancing and is a sensible precaution.

4.4 Condition 34 allows the sale or supply of intoxicating liquor to customers who have paid the entry fee of £3 Mon to Thursday and £5 Friday to Saturday. In effect the premises are able to operate as a bar and club, open to all, provided they pay the admission charge and there is substantial food available, it is not necessary to consume any food.

4.5 While it is recognised that the consumption of food can reduce the effect of alcohol these conditions do nothing to require customers to consume food. There is no evidence that the removal of condition 34 and suspension of condition 41(e) when sexual entertainment is taking place will have a negative impact on the promotion of the licensing objectives.

4.6 Mr Nadler refers to the improvements in the character of Soho over the last 40 years and as a Londoner and ex-police officer who has visited and worked in Soho for many years I agree with this. Soho continues to be an exciting place and offers a bustling, vibrant and above all mixed environment where a broad range of premises operate alongside each other within a regulatory framework that is strictly controlled.

- 4.7 Whether or not an individual chooses to go to a premises offering sexual entertainment is a personal, often moral, choice. However, there is no evidence to support the assertion that lap dancing bars encourage a threatening or sexually charged atmosphere that has a negative impact on the licensing objectives.
- 4.8 The evidence indicates there is less crime and disorder and less nuisance associated with such premises when compared to alcohol led bars and clubs and the proposed conditions and management plans will ensure this is the case with this application.
- 4.9 Mr Nadler raises concerns about the potential increase in noise and disturbance in Carlisle Street from the proposed variation. As previously stated the proposed new style of operation, together with the improved management of the external environment, will lead to less noise and disturbance.
- 4.10 Protection of Children from Harm. The SEV standard conditions ensure that externally there is no nudity or relevant entertainment ensuring that children outside are protected from any potential harm. There is no evidence that lap dancing bars create an atmosphere or potential for violence, the extra control measures, higher ratio of door supervisors to customers and generally more relaxed atmosphere lead to less violence, nuisance, crime and disorder than a regular nightclub.
- 4.11 It is not proposed to increase the capacity of the premises, the proposed changes relate to the style of operation and are likely to lead to a reduction in the overall number of customers. The proposed management plans for the external environment, in line with best practice, will lead to reductions in noise and nuisance outside the premises.
- 4.12 Mr Nadler raises concerns about the removal of specific conditions:
- 4.13 There is no evidence that the removal of Condition 15 that allows dancing and striptease to take place only in the basement will have an adverse effect on the licensing objectives. The increase in relevant entertainment will ensure customers are attracted for the entertainment with alcohol consumption ancillary to this. This will reduce the potential for crime and disorder or nuisance to residents.
- 4.14 With regard to the removal of condition 30, It is proposed that there will be at least one Personal Licence Holder present during the whole time that intoxicating liquor is sold, supplied or consumed. This is a sensible condition that ensures proper supervision of the premises and together with the increased ratio of door supervisors and improved management policies is sufficient to ensure the premises promotes the licensing objectives.
- 4.15 It is now proposed that condition 32 not be removed but is suspended when the premises operates as lap-dancing venue. This is a sensible approach that ensures that the premises does not become an alcohol lead bar but provides alcohol ancillary to lap dancing or ancillary to music and dancing and the availability of substantial food.

- 4.16 Condition 34 allows the sale or supply of intoxicating liquor to customers who have paid the entry fee of £3 Mon to Thursday and £5 Friday to Saturday. In effect the premises are able to operate as a bar and club, open to all, provided they pay the admission charge and there is substantial food available, it is not necessary to consume any food.
- 4.17 This condition has little effect on the promotion of the licensing objectives and the removal, in the context of the proposed change to a lap-dancing club, will not have a negative impact on the promotion of the licensing objectives.
- 4.18 It is now proposed that condition 41(e) is not removed but is suspended when the premises is used for lap-dancing. This is a sensible approach that ensures that the premises does not become an alcohol lead bar but provides alcohol ancillary to lap dancing or ancillary to music and dancing and the availability of substantial food.
- 4.19 The removal of condition 47 will allow sexual entertainment in a larger area of the premises, however this will not be visible to those outside the premises and will have no impact on the promotion of the licensing objectives as is not relevant to the protection of children.
- 4.20 As previously stated the evidence indicates that the premises operating as a lap dancing club, with all the additional management policies proposed, will lead to a decrease in crime and disorder and reduce the impact on residents and others using the vicinity. There are standard conditions covering SEVs that must be complied with and additional conditions have been agreed to cover specific concerns.
- 4.21 This application does not seek to extend the hours permitted by the existing licence. It is my view that the evidence indicates that the proposed change to a lap-dancing club, with the additional conditions, will bring about a reduction in crime and disorder and the nuisance to residents that has been caused in the past.

5. Objector 5, un-named local resident.

- 5.1 This objection does not provide any evidence that the licensing objectives will not be promoted by the proposed variation. The premises are currently licensed for sexual entertainment and the variation seeks to increase the area in which it can be provided.
- 5.2 There are other similar premises such as Sunset Strip close by of which the author appears unaware. As previously stated there is no evidence to support the concern that crime and disorder or public nuisance will increase or that lap dancing clubs lead to increase in crime of any type.

6. Objector 6, un-named Councillor or MP.

6.1 This objection merely states that the author objects to the application, no reason and no evidence is given.

7. Objector 7, un-named local resident.

7.1 This objection does not provide any evidence that the licensing objectives will not be promoted by the proposed variation. The premises are currently licensed for sexual entertainment and the variation seeks to increase the areas in which it can be provided. There are other similar premises such as Sunset Strip close by of which the author appears unaware.

7.2 There is no evidence to support the concern that crime and disorder or public nuisance will increase or that lap dancing clubs lead to increase in crime of any type. The concerns raised relating to the Nellie Dean public house are common problems at pubs and regular nightclubs.

7.3 However, due to the different style of operation and increased regulation at lap dancing clubs, and the conditions proposed in this application to manage the external environment, this application will reduce the potential for such problems.

8. Objector 8, un-named objector, local resident?

8.1 There is no evidence to support the assertions of this objector that children will not be protected from harm, crime and disorder will increase, public nuisance will increase and public safety will be compromised. The available evidence indicates that all the licensing objectives will be promoted and crime and disorder and public nuisance will decrease.

9. Objector 9, un-named resident during university holidays.

9.1 This objector does not provide any evidence that the licensing objectives will not be promoted by granting the application. As with other residents the author points to nuisance caused by the Nellie Dean and draws the conclusion that these will be made worse by this application. This is not the case.

9.2 The standard conditions for SEV premises and those additionally proposed, including the management plans for dispersal and smoking restrictions in line with best practice, will ensure that this application does not cause the same issues that are created by some other licensed premises in the vicinity. It provides positive benefits to the external environment when compared to the operation of a pub or regular nightclub.

10. Objector 10, un-named resident.

10.1 This objection does not provide any evidence that the licensing objectives will not be promoted by the proposed variation. The premises are currently licensed for sexual entertainment and the variation seeks to increase the area in which it can be provided. As previously stated there is no evidence to support the concern that crime and disorder or public nuisance will increase or that lap dancing clubs lead to increase in crime of any type.

11. Objector 11, un-named Councillor.

11.1 This objection does not provide any evidence that the licensing objectives will not be promoted by the proposed variation. The premises is currently licensed for sexual entertainment and the variation seeks to increase the area in which it can be provided.

11.2 The premises has operated to capacity as a bar and nightclub in the past and this application is likely to lead to fewer rather than more customers. There is no evidence to support the concern that crime and disorder or public nuisance will increase or that lap dancing clubs lead to increase in crime of any type.

12. Objector 12, Environmental Health, Ian Watson and Ola Owojori.

12.1 Response to Ian Watson. There is no evidence that the proposed changes to increase the hours for relevant entertainment will increase public nuisance. The evidence indicates that the provision of entertainment with intoxicating liquor provided ancillary will reduce the likelihood of public nuisance when compared to a drink lead premises. In general lap dancing clubs cause less public nuisance than bars and nightclubs.

12.2 The proposal to use all three floors for relevant entertainment will change the style of operation from an alcohol led bar and club to a premises that provides entertainment with alcohol ancillary. This will lead to a decrease in public nuisance. There is no evidence that increasing the space used for entertainment will have any impact on public safety.

12.3 There is no evidence provided that removal of Condition 25 to allow regulated entertainment in areas other than the basement will have any impact on public safety. It is not proposed to increase the capacity of the premises and with the greater supervision provided by addition door supervisors public safety will be improved.

12.4 Response to Ola Owojori. There is no evidence that the proposed changes to increase the hours for relevant entertainment will increase public nuisance. The evidence indicates that the provision of entertainment with intoxicating liquor provided ancillary will reduce the likelihood of public nuisance when compared to a drink lead premises. In general lap dancing clubs cause less public nuisance than bars and nightclubs.

- 12.5 The issues of late night transport from a premises apply whatever the style of operation and are equally applicable to the current premises as it is not proposed to change the closing time. The area is well served with public transport, including night buses. In general customers at lap dancing clubs tend to use their own or private hire cars or taxis. There is a management plan proposed that will provide for supervision of the environment and ensure potential for disruption in Carlisle Street is minimised.
- 12.6 There is another SEV nearby, Sunset Strip at 30 Dean Street. I walked past on 2nd October 2014 and the doors were open giving a good view of the interior, including the scantily clad dancers. Unlike the discrete Vanity bar exterior, Sunset Strip has a clear indication of what goes on inside with the illustrations in the first floor windows, these leave the casual passer-by under no illusion what entertainment is provided.
- 12.7 Concern has been raised about customers and dancers smoking together at the front of the premises. This has been considered and there is a smoking area provided for customers at the front of the building and a completely separate area for dancers on the first floor. This is covered in paragraph 9 of the dancer welfare policy.
- 12.8 Concern is raised about what is referred to as a vulnerable hostel at 91 Dean Street. This is close to Sunset Strip and I am not aware that there has been any adverse effect in the past. I do not consider that Vanity Bar, which has a discrete, managed entrance and is around a corner in another road, will have any impact on this hostel.
- 12.9 With regard to concerns raised about the potential for prostitution, touting and 'clipping', these are issues that many of the premises in the West End face and are not unique to SEV premises. I consider that the policies and procedures proposed, such as the extensive use of Door Supervisors and the management plan for the external environment, accord with best practice and will lead to a decrease in crime and disorder and reduce the impact on residents and others using the vicinity.
- 12.10 There is no evidence that extending the area where entertainment is permitted will lead to inadequate supervision at the premises. The increased levels of security and CCTV coverage will ensure that the whole premises are supervised and the dancer and customer codes of conduct are adhered to.
- 12.11 In relation to hours, what is proposed will ensure that entertainment is provided when the premises is open for the sale or supply of intoxicating liquor ensuring that the intoxicating liquor is ancillary to the entertainment at all times. This is an improvement over the existing licence which effectively allows the use of the premises as a drink led bar provided the entry fee is paid and food, (which does not have to be consumed) is available.

12.12 The issues of late night transport from a premises apply whatever the style of operation and are equally applicable to the current premises as it is not proposed to change the closing time. The area is well served with public transport, including night buses.

12.13 In general customers at lap dancing clubs tend to use their own or private hire cars or taxis. There is a management plan proposed that will provide for supervision of the environment and ensure potential for disruption in Carlisle Street is minimised.

13. Objector 13, James Hayes, Licensing Inspector.

13.1 The applicant has proposed an increase in door supervisors when the premises is used for relevant entertainment as follows:

- a. Entrance – 1
- b. Basement when in operation – 1 per 35 customers
- c. First floor/Mezzanine when in operation – 1

This number of door supervisors will ensure a good level of supervision with a door supervisor on every floor of the premises and is significantly more than was previously required.

I understand that my duty is to the court and this report has been prepared in compliance with that duty. All matters relevant to the issues on which my expert evidence is given have been included in this report. I believe the facts I state in this report are honest and true and that the opinions I have expressed are correct to the best of my judgement. The fee for this report is not conditional on the outcome of the case in anyway whatsoever.

c Licensing — Sex establishment — Sex shop — Local authority granting licence to organiser of sex exhibition — Exhibition to be made up of a number of stalls run by individuals not employed by organisers — Whether morality a relevant factor in exercise of local authority's discretion to grant licence — Whether appropriate for licence to be granted to organiser of exhibition or individual stall holders — Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1982 (c30), Sched 3 d A company planned to organise a "sex exhibition" on premises within the area of the local authority. The exhibition was to consist of a number of stalls at which various items would be sold or displayed, some of which would be "sex articles" as defined in paragraph 4(3) of Schedule 3 to the Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1982. The stall holders were individuals permitted to operate their stalls by the organisers, and not employees of the organisers. The local authority granted the company a licence to use the premises as a sex establishment under paragraph 8 of the Schedule, subject to conditions. The applicant, a local organisation concerned to promote the Christian ethic who opposed the exhibition on moral grounds, sought judicial review of the local authority's decision to grant a licence.

e On the application for judicial review, f Held, refusing the application, that the provisions of paragraph 12(3)(c) and (d) of Schedule 3 to the 1982 Act, which gave grounds on which a local authority had a discretion to refuse a licence, did not enable a local authority to have regard to the morality of the proposed sex establishment, but entitled it to take account of any strong body of feeling in the locality which objected to the existence of a sex establishment in that locality; that it was the effect on the locality and on those living nearby which had to be taken into account as distinct from the morality of the activities involved; that when determining whether the organisers of the exhibition were the appropriate licensees as opposed to the individual stall holders, the primary consideration was whether the exhibition could properly be described as use of the premises by the organisers as a sex establishment;

that for the purposes of Schedule 3 the organisers were using the premises as a sex establishment and although the individual stalls were also being used by the individual exhibitors, they did not need separate licences; and that accordingly, the local authority was acting lawfully in granting the licence. ^a

APPLICATION for judicial review

By an application dated 18 August 2000 the applicant, the Christian Institute, applied for judicial review in the form of: (1) a declaration that a sex establishment licence for a sex shop did not allow its holder to cause or permit third parties to use the premises licensed or parts thereof for the conduct and management of sex shop businesses on their own accounts; and (2) an order of certiorari to quash the decision of Newcastle City Council, made on 7 August 2000, to grant to Xsensual Ltd a sex establishment licence for a sex shop at the Telewest Arena, Newcastle upon Tyne, pursuant to Schedule 3 to the Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1982. ^b ^c

The facts are stated in the judgment.

Charles Holland (instructed by John O'Neill & Co, Newcastle upon Tyne) for the applicants. ^d

Nigel Peters QC (instructed by the Director of Legal Services, Newcastle upon Tyne City Council) for the local authority.

Alex Milne (instructed by Kay Tesler) for Xsensual Ltd, an interested party.

COLLINS J. There is due to be held this weekend in Newcastle at the Telewest Arena what is described as a sex exhibition. This is being organised by a company called Xsensual Ltd. ^e

In order to enable this event to go ahead, Xsensual applied on 25 of this year to the Newcastle upon Tyne City Council for the grant of a licence to use the premises as a sex establishment. The application was made pursuant to Schedule 3 to the Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1982. That Schedule contains a code for the licensing of or, as the Act puts it, control of sex establishments. ^f

A "sex establishment" is defined, in paragraph 2, as "a sex cinema or a sex shop". We are not here concerned with a sex cinema, but with a sex shop which paragraph 4(1) of the Schedule defines to mean:

"any premises, vehicle, vessel or stall used for a business which consists to a significant degree of selling, hiring, exchanging, lending, displaying or demonstrating—(a) sex articles; or (b) other things intended for use in connection with, or for the purpose of stimulating or encouraging—(i) sexual activity; or (ii) acts of force or restraint which ^g restraint which are associated with sexual activity; and (b) anything to which subparagraph (4) below applies."

Subparagraph (4) applies:

"(a) to any article containing or embodying matter to be read or looked at or anything intended to be used, either alone or as one of a set, for the reproduction or manufacture of any such article; and (b) to any recording of vision or sound, which—(i) is concerned primarily with the portrayal of, or primarily deals with or relates to, or is intended to stimulate or encourage, sexual activity or acts of force or restraint which are associated with sexual activity; or (ii) is concerned primarily with the portrayal of, or primarily deals with or relates to, genital organs, or urinary or excretory functions."

The proposed arrangements, broadly speaking, are that Xsensual will hire the arena and will obtain the necessary licence. In the arena there will be a number of stalls which are manned by individuals who either sell or display items which might or might not come within the definition "sex articles". In addition there will be at least one, and possibly more than one stall which is engaged in the sale of videos which are described as R18. The importance of those is that it is against the law to sell any such videos unless from a licensed sex shop. That is provided for by section 12 of the Video Recordings Act 1984.

Xsensual's application was duly advertised in the local press, as it had to be in accordance with the Schedule.

I do not need to go through the provisions in any detail; suffice it to say, there is a provision for advertisement and for the receipt by the local authority of objections, so those can be considered, provided they are received within 28 days of the application being made for the licence. Having received and considered such objections as there might be, the local authority will then decide whether it is appropriate to grant a licence.

So far as the application is concerned, it is very much up to the local authority what particulars it requires to be given in relation to an application for a licence. The only particulars that must be provided, by virtue of paragraph 9(3), where the application is made by a body corporate, as was the case here, are: "(a) the full name of the body; (b) the address of its registered or principal office; and (c) the full names and private addresses of the directors or other persons responsible for its management."

There are by paragraph 12 some mandatory and some discretionary grounds for refusing a licence. The mandatory grounds for refusing are, that the applicant is under 18 or is disqualified as a result of a revocation of a previous licence; is (so far as a body corporate is concerned) not incorporated in the United Kingdom or, if an individual, is not resident in the United Kingdom; or was not so resident throughout the period of six months immediately preceding the date when the application was made;

That, of course, is a very wide power to refuse a licence.

“(b) that if the licence were to be granted, renewed or transferred the business to which it relates would be managed by or carried on for the benefit of a person, other than the applicant, who would be refused the grant, renewal or transfer of such a licence if he made the application himself;”

Pausing there, that, no doubt, is to avoid the use of front people in order to obtain licences when the real person in charge is, for whatever reason, unfit.

“(c) that the number of sex establishments in the relevant locality at the time the application is made is equal to or exceeds the number which the authority consider is appropriate for that locality.”

As subparagraph (4) indicates, the appropriate number may, in any given case, be nil.

“The relevant locality” is defined, in subparagraph (5), as meaning the locality where the premises are situated, which perhaps is not overly helpful and has led to a degree of litigation in the past. Finally at (d):

“that the grant or renewal of the licence would be inappropriate, having regard—(i) to the character of the relevant locality; or (ii) to the use to which any premises in the vicinity are put; or (iii) to the layout, character or condition of the premises, vehicle, vessel or stall in respect of which the application is made.”

It will therefore be apparent that the local authority is granted a very wide discretion by the provisions of the Schedule in deciding whether or not a licence should be granted. Furthermore, as I have already indicated, the details which the local authority require of an applicant and the investigations that it chooses to make are very much a matter for it. There is nothing laid down in the Schedule which determines precisely what steps should be taken in any given case by the local authority.

The applicants in this case are a company registered by guarantee, known as the Christian Institute. They are a local organisation in Newcastle and, as their name suggests, they are concerned to promote the Christian ethic. They oppose, on moral grounds, the activities which are intended to be carried on in the course of this sex exhibition. It is a view which is, no doubt, held by many other people than themselves but, equally, it is a view which is not agreed to by many others.

So far as I and the local authority are concerned, in carrying out the provisions of this Act, approval or disapproval of sex shops is not a matter which can be put into the equation. It is a question only of applying the provisions of the Schedule.

Mr Holland has suggested that the provisions of paragraph 12(3)(c) and (d), do enable the authority and the court to take account of what he has a objects to the existence of a sex shop in that locality. Equally, paragraph (d) makes plain that, in addition to the character of the relevant locality, the use to which any premises in the vicinity are put is also a relevant consideration. Thus, for example, it might be perfectly reasonable to refuse a licence for a sex shop which is in the vicinity of a school or some religious building. That is a recognition that sex shops may attract a particular clientele whose presence may not be considered desirable in some areas and that is something again which can be taken into account, but it has nothing to do with the morality of sex shops as such. It is the effect on the locality and on those living nearby which has to be taken into account and that is the distinction which is drawn. Thus, straightforward objections on the ground that sex shops should not be allowed to exist have no part to play in my or a local authority's consideration of the case. Whether I approve or disapprove is nothing to the point. Whether the local authority approves or disapproves is equally nothing to the point, except insofar as the provisions of paragraph 12 are applicable.

b The matter was considered by the relevant licensing committee on 7 August 2000. The applicants were able to attend through a representative and there were at least two, maybe three, councillors who also made and put forward objections.

c The committee received a substantial number of objections, (I think the figure of 94 or thereabouts is in the papers) but, in the end, they decided that the licence should be granted to Xsensual, subject to a number of conditions. The conditions that may be prescribed are covered by paragraph 13 of Schedule 3 which entitles: "(1) ... the appropriate authority [to] make regulations prescribing standard conditions [if they wish to do so]."

d That has not been done, so far as Newcastle is concerned; certainly, there is no evidence before me that that has happened. What the local authority did here was to decide what conditions would be appropriate. Furthermore, they made inquiries of the police to see whether there were any police objections to the applicants or to the application: there were none. The applicants indicated that there had been similar fairs held in, I think, Wembley Stadium and at Kensington Olympia, and no doubt the local authority were able to, if they wished, make inquiries to discover whether there had been any problems in relation to those. The evidence before me is that there have been no problems and there is nothing to gainsay that.

e The conditions amount to 33 in all. It is not necessary for me to go through them in detail, but they include, for example, a requirement that "the licensee should maintain good order on the premises at all times"; "no person under 18 years of age shall be admitted ...; whilst the premises are open as a sex establishment they shall not be used for any other purpose."; "... [there shall be available] without charge ... literature and contact names and telephone numbers of organisations and associations that give advice and counselling on matters relating to sexual problems

soliciting or immoral purpose.”; there should be no distribution of advertising material promoting the establishment in the city in the vicinity of the establishment without prior consent; “Only merchandise which is legally available in Great Britain from retail outlets, mail order companies or party planners may be sold, hired, loaned, displayed, advertised or demonstrated...”; there should be no “total nudity [except] on stage.”

There is, as part of the exhibition, to be a stage event. Perhaps the only one I need read specifically is condition 28, which states:

“No person convicted of an offence connected to a sex establishment either licensed or unlicensed may be employed at the premises or be involved in supplying entertainment or goods to be included in the exhibition.”

The Schedule contains paragraphs which deal with “enforcement” and create offences. The most relevant of those is paragraph 20 which provides, amongst other things:

“(1) A person who—(a) ... (b) being the holder of a licence for a sex establishment, employs in the business of the establishment any person known to him to be disqualified from holding such a licence; or (c) being the holder of a licence under this Schedule without reasonable excuse knowingly contravenes, or without reasonable excuse knowingly permits the contravention of, a term, condition or restriction specified in the licence; or (d) being the servant or agent of the holder of a licence under this Schedule, without reasonable excuse knowingly contravenes, or without reasonable excuse knowingly permits the contravention of, a term, condition or restriction specified in the licence, shall be guilty of an offence.”

It is apparent from the wording of that paragraph that it is only someone acting as the licence holder’s servant or agent who can render him guilty of an offence. Thus, what is said by Mr Holland, who has appeared on behalf of the applicants, is that the stall holders will not be either the servants or agents of the licensee, Xsensual, and therefore there can be no prosecution of Xsensual for their misdeeds, if any misdeeds are established. This means that the control which Parliament has obviously regarded as important will be lacking.

Before I come to the main submissions, I should deal with two subsidiary points which have been raised by the applicants and with a further important point which was to have been part of the argument but which has fallen away, namely whether the applicants have a sufficient interest to enable them properly to be permitted to make this application at all.

So far as that third point is concerned, at the outset of the hearing, Mr Peters, on behalf of the authority and Mr Milne on behalf of Xsensual, did not argue against the proposition that the applicants did have sufficient interest. It appears that there is evidence showing their local connections, a told by counsel, to go behind their concession. Accordingly, that issue I have not had to determine and I proceed on the basis that the applicants do indeed have locus standi to maintain these proceedings, for which they were granted leave last week by Elias J.

b The two subsidiary points are these. First, an allegation that there was a procedural impropriety. The way it is put is that the initial letters to objectors wrongfully fettered the discretion, which undoubtedly exists in the local authority to afford the objectors a hearing. Whether or not there is anything in that (and, frankly, I do not think there is) the fact is that these applicants did attend and were heard. Therefore, it hardly lies in their mouths to complain that they were adversely affected by any alleged impropriety.

c In fairness to Mr Holland, he did not pursue either of these points with any vigour at all, and he accepted, in the course of argument, that this particular one was really one which he could not, on the material available, place any reliance upon. Accordingly, I need go no further into it.

d The second subsidiary ground was that in a newspaper report of a radio interview, it was said that the responsible officer of the local authority indicated that the local authority had not taken into account what might be considered moral values in determining the application. I have already gone into that to some extent earlier in this judgment, and it seems to me he was right in what he said, if he meant—and I have no reason to believe he meant anything different—that moral values as such on their own were not a basis for reaching any decision under the Schedule.

e Again, I understand why the applicants are concerned to raise that point, but I am afraid it is not a point that has any validity in law. Accordingly that point too, I reject.

f I turn, therefore, to the real basis for this application. The starting point is paragraph 6 of Schedule 3 which reads, by subparagraph (1):

“Subject to the provisions of this Schedule, no person shall in any area in which this Schedule is in force use any premises, vehicle, vessel or stall as a sex establishment except under and in accordance with the terms of a licence granted under this Schedule by the appropriate authority.”

g The point that is essentially being made is this: albeit the arena is clearly “premises”, and is being hired by the organisers Xsensual, the use as a sex establishment is the use by each individual stall holder of his stall. The organisers are not using the premises as a sex establishment, they are merely permitting others, that is to say, the stall holders to use the individual stalls. Accordingly, a licence to the organisers Xsensual is not appropriate in order to licence the use of the individual stalls which need licences because they are sex establishments. I should say, it is the case, so I am told, that by no means all the individual stalls qualify as sex establishments because many of them are not, within the meaning of articles, but which one can understand might perhaps go with sex articles in an exhibition such as is proposed on this occasion. ^a

I am told, that it is the view of the organisers that only some three or four stalls will be selling sex articles and thus would, if looked at in isolation, qualify as sex shops within the meaning of paragraph 4. Of course, that includes, as it has to, those who are proposing to sell the R18 videos because of the provisions of section 12 of the Video Recordings Act 1984.

Mr Holland develops the point by saying that, in any event, this sort of licensing (that is to say, of organisers where the users are not going to be either employees or agents) is contrary to the purpose of the Schedule. ^b

First, it means that there is a delegation by the local authority of their responsibility to vet the applicants for licences, in particular to vet those who are going to be involved in selling the items or in running the individual stalls. They have a responsibility, limited though it is, in the express terms of the Act, to make inquiries about and to vet those who apply for licences. The individual stall holders will not have to apply, and so it is left entirely to Xsensual to decide who should be allowed in to the exhibition and run stalls there. Thus the authority is putting out of its control the responsibility that it ought to carry for ensuring that only fit and proper people are running the stalls in the exhibition. ^c

Secondly, Mr Holland points to paragraph 20 (to which I have already referred) and to the limitation of offending under that paragraph to be laid at the door of the licence holder to the activities of its employees or agents. This indicates, he submits, that Parliament quite clearly did not envisage that there should be a licence given to an organiser where he has no direct control, because they are not employees or agents, over the activities of the individual stall holders. ^d

Mr Peters submits that that is too narrow a construction of the provisions of the Schedule and points to the provisions also of paragraph 8 which provide that: ^e

"the appropriate authority may grant to any applicant, and from time to time renew, a licence under this Schedule for the use of any premises, vehicle, vessel or stall specified in it for a sex establishment on such terms and conditions and subject to such restrictions as may be so specified." ^f

There is nothing in paragraph 8, submits Mr Peters, which suggests that the individual to whom the licence is granted must himself be using the premises for the sex establishment, in the sense that he must be the one who is actively involved in the individual stall.

As it seems to me, the primary consideration must be whether what is proposed here can properly be described as use of the premises by Xsensual as a sex establishment. There is, as I have said, no question but that the premises as a whole are capable of amounting to a sex establishment because of the nature of what is going on there. albeit a ^g a exchanging, lending, displaying or demonstrating the articles which qualify.

b The word "use" is a wide word. It seems to me, as a matter of ordinary English, that a person who organises an exhibition and has general control over who shall come there, it being his decision whether he accepts a stall holder or not, and who imposes, as must happen because of the terms and conditions of the licence that has been granted, upon the stall holders certain obligations which they must comply with in the exhibition and in running their stalls can properly be described as using the premises as a whole. He sets up, he organises, he essentially runs the exhibition that is going on and it is envisaged, of course, that he will have someone on site, always keeping an eye on what is happening.

c I have no direct knowledge of the individual arrangements or contracts between the organisers and the stall holders, but I do know that the authority has laid down the conditions, to which I have referred, and those conditions will, no doubt, have been drawn to the attention of the individual stall holders. Indeed, they clearly must be drawn to the attention of the individual stall holders, so that they can comply with them. As I say, in those circumstances, it seems to me, as a matter of ordinary English usage, that the organisers, in this case Xsensual, are using the premises as a sex establishment. Of course, the individual stalls are also being used by the individual exhibitors, but if the licence is appropriate to cover that use, they do not need any separate licence.

d Mr Holland has drawn my attention to various decisions under the Licensing Acts. Mr Peters submits that that is a different regime which is clearly intended to require that an individual should have control over the day-to-day activities in licenced premises. Thus it is the responsibility of the individual licensee to ensure, for example, that there is no drunkenness on the premises, that drunken people are not served, that underaged people are not served and so on. All these are matters which are personal to the licence holder. It is no good that there may be a licensee on the premises if the reality is that that licensee has no ability to control anything that goes on in the premises. There are authorities to which I have been referred which make that plain. It is no good, as it were, putting up a stooge and sitting him in the corner of the bar and saying, "there is your licence holder, therefore, the people who are actually engaged in running the premises can do so without fear of committing any offence".

e It seems to me it all depends upon the proper construction of the individual licensing provisions, in this case Schedule 3 to the 1982 Act and, for reasons I have given, it seems to me plain from that, that the arrangement which has been entered into here is one which is permitted by its terms. As I have already said, it seems to me that both for the purposes of paragraphs 6 and 8, Xsensual can properly be said to be using the premises.

authority, provided it does not act irrationally, to determine what information is required on any application and how it should approach its licensing function. It is given a very wide discretion. The conditions it has imposed show it is alive to the need to ensure that there is a proper control kept in the premises. Indeed, Mr Peters has submitted that the reality is that there is a greater degree of control likely where the organisers, a single individual or a body corporate as here, have the responsibility to ensure that things go as they ought to. If they want to organise any further fairs, it is clearly in their interests that what is done should never transgress the law, because otherwise, obviously, the next application they make in any other venue in the United Kingdom will be met, when investigations are made, with the knowledge that things went wrong in Newcastle. I would not expect in those circumstances the next local authority to look kindly upon an application for a licence. Thus, they have a clear interest to ensure that the conditions are complied with.

Of course, no one can guarantee that an individual who is permitted to run a stall will always be as honest as he should or will not break the conditions. Nothing can be guaranteed, but nothing equally can be guaranteed with an employee or an agent. The arguments that have been raised by Mr Holland about the lack of vetting seem to me to be arguments which would run equally with employees and agents.

Furthermore, it is to be noted that in paragraph 20(1)(c), a knowing contravention or the knowing permitting of a contravention of term, condition or restriction specified in the licence is an offence by the licence holder. Thus, any breach by a stall holder will, if done with the knowledge of the licensee, render the licensee guilty of an offence. It will not be any answer for the licensee to say that he did not draw the conditions to the attention of the stall holder because, clearly, that would mean that he was failing in his duty and, furthermore, would amount, I am sure, to constructive knowledge and thus create an offence.

Accordingly, I am satisfied that what has been done in this case is lawful. It was open within the terms of Schedule 3 to the local authority to grant the licence, subject to the conditions to Xsensual. It may be that with hindsight, condition 28 could have been drawn somewhat more tightly so that, for example, it caught not only the person convicted of an offence, connected to a sex establishment, but also anyone who was disqualified. Possibly it should extend, for example, to anyone convicted of a particular sort of offence (obviously one would exclude motoring offences) it might be desirable to exclude anyone who had committed a sex offence or an offence of dishonesty. That is a matter for the local authority. I do not regard the conditions that they in fact imposed, as in any way falling short so as to amount, in law, to an abnegation of whatever duties they had under the provisions of the Act.

I should say that there has been a suggestion that there might be the grant a bound to say I had some reservations, as I indicated in argument, about whether waiver was appropriate in circumstances such as these, but as I say, I need not go into that issue now because, in my judgment, the course adopted by the local authority was not unlawful in any way and, accordingly, this application must fail.

Monday 1st September 2014

Dear Sirs,

Ref: Vanity, 4 Carlisle Street W1D 3BJ - 14/06652/LIPV and 14/06704/LISEVV

I am writing on behalf of The Nadler Soho hotel, located at 10 Carlisle Street, W1D 3BR, to object to both Licence Variation Application 14/06652/LIPV and New Premises Licence Application 14/06704/LISEVV.

My grounds for objection cover all four licencing objectives: Protection of Children from Harm, Protection of Public Safety, Prevention of Crime and Disorder and Prevention of Public Nuisance. Dealing firstly with the New Premises Licence Application no 14/06704/LISEVV, the applicants contend that their Application, if successful, will promote the above four licencing objectives. The reason stated for this for all bar Protection of Children is the same and set out in Part 4 of their application. It is misleading, and misrepresents the conditions under which the current licence operates. It was not, as implied, a bar/nightclub open to all patrons 'seeing (sic) the consumption of alcohol as a major part of their night out'. On the contrary, the present licencing condition 34 sets out strict and explicit criteria in respect of who can be admitted past 23.00 and the requirement for the sale of alcohol to be ancillary to the use of the premises where patrons must take a full table meal (see also condition 32). As the applicant is seeking to have these conditions removed, in Application 14/06652/LIPV, together with the removal of other existing conditions, the licencing objectives will be threatened, not promoted, by premises that have no restriction on entry and where the provision of food with alcohol is no longer a requirement.

Their contention that the use of the premises for Sexual Entertainment will improve the character and function of the city is palpably incomprehensible. Soho's character has improved dramatically over the last 40 years since I was a Police Officer (Special Constable SC122) stationed at Vine Street. Due to the efforts of WCC together with various amenity groups and landlords, Soho has gone from a sleazy and seedy area to a vibrant centre of entertainment and activity whilst being generally safe and welcoming to all. A user such as that proposed will be a regressive step in terms of the character of the neighbourhood. It will create a threatening, sexually charged atmosphere, especially for women and children, of whom there are an increasing number in Soho, even late at night, due to the positive change in the character of the area.

In terms of function, Carlisle Street, west from the Dean Street junction, is a tight and short cul-de-sac. As such, any activity has a greater impact, positive or negative, on the functioning of this part of the street. The increase in the scale of activity as proposed, particularly in respect of the late night, unrestricted entrance, will have a seriously detrimental impact on the functioning of Carlisle Street. Patrons arriving and leaving by taxis, which will struggle to come in, turn and exit this end of Carlisle Street, will cause mayhem late at night with potential for traffic noise, arguments and consequently violence. Together with inebriated clients leaving the premises, this is a recipe for disaster for residents and other occupiers of Carlisle Street.

The increase in noise from activities now spread over more area and floors is also a serious concern, especially later at night/early morning, constituting a public nuisance.

In respect of licencing objective 'The Protection of Children from Harm', as stated above, there are now more children in Soho late at night, as parents are presently comfortable that this is a safe part of the city. This includes not just visitors and tourists but also an increasing numbers of residents as well as hotel guests, many with young families, a demographic with whom our hotel is particularly popular. As I have said above, the atmosphere and potential for violence that the proposal will generate hardly promotes the stated objective, but rather undermines it.

In addition, the reasons given in the application for an exception to be made to the cumulative impact – Stress Areas – Policy STR1 are again unsupportable and misleading. They misrepresent the current conditions of operation, as explained above, and will intensify, not displace, the number of patrons, with an increase in the area of activities for Sexual Entertainment, thus having the opposite impact to that claimed.

In light of the above, I believe this application should be refused.

Looking at Application 14/06652/LIPV, we wish to object to this application also, on grounds of its negative impact on all four of the Licencing Objectives. Many of our objections are stated above, but turning to the requested changes to the existing licence conditions, we have further concerns, which I set out below.

The revisions to the layout, and the increase in areas where Sexual Entertainment can take place creates an intensification of use, and is likely to cause an increase in the number of patrons who are on the premises at any one time, with all the attendant consequences this will have on entry and exit, in a very restricted street/cul-de-sac. This is likely to lead to a direct threat to the objectives of the Stress Areas policy.

Turning to the application to remove specific existing conditions:

10. We do not see how removal of this condition will benefit the four licencing objectives, and indeed fear that it will undermine the objectives.

15. As already explained, this will generate an intensification of activity, with the attendant consequences described above.

30. We believe that removal of this condition will mean that the licensees will be unsuitable and untrained persons, without the experience and training to handle the increased number of patrons and that this will impact negatively on the Prevention of Crime and Disorder as well as Public Safety and Public Nuisance.

32. Without this condition that requires the provision of substantial food other than intoxicating liquor, the premises will become a late night drinking den. The provision of Sexual Entertainment is hardly likely to reduce the amount of alcohol consumed, a contention of the applicants with which we disagree and which we do not believe can be substantiated. The removal of the requirement to serve substantial food varies the nature of the Premises considerably, and will likely cause an increase in levels of drunkenness with associated public nuisance, and crime and disorder.

34. The removal of the restrictions on entry post 23.00 hours changes the type of clientele who will be permitted to enter, making it more difficult to control who enters, undermining the nature of the premises that had been in the realm of a private members club, thereby increasing the potential numbers of clients on the premises, intensifying the use late at night, at times when public transport will no longer be available, and therefore further increasing the likelihood that all four licencing objectives will be undermined.

THE NADLER SOHO

41(e). Requesting the removal of this condition undermines the applicant's assertion that the provision of Sexual Entertainment is the central activity, and not drinking. If this condition is removed, the sale of alcohol becomes a principle activity, and the likelihood of inebriated patrons behaving in a manner likely to cause a breach of the peace and undermining the licencing objectives of Protection of Public Safety, Prevention of Crime and Disorder and Prevention of Public Nuisance increases significantly.

47. Removal of this condition will increase the intensification of the Sexual Entertainment activity, meaning more patrons on the streets arriving and leaving late at night. This will put residents and other visitors to Soho, especially children, at risk, being contrary to the licencing objective of Protection of Children from Harm, as well as the other three licencing objectives.

The only step proposed by the applicants to address the promotion of the four licensing objectives is to advise that they operate under a series of Codes of Conduct (undefined). In view of their desire to remove condition 30, this is a grave concern.

The application to extend the hours undermines the Licensing Authority's policy of deeming this area a "Stress Area". The Licensing Authority is clear that applications to vary licences within the stress area should only be limited to core hours of 10:00-00:00 Friday Saturday; 12:00-23:30 Sunday; 10:00-23:30 midweek. This application goes far beyond those core hours. The Licensing Policy refers to the need to "balance the legitimate aspirations of the entertainment industry with the needs of residents and other users of the city including visitors and businesses". These proposals skew that balance significantly and adversely.

Based on these objections, we believe this application should be refused.

It would be our intention to attend a hearing, if a hearing is held.

Yours faithfully,

Robert Nadler

Dear Miss Eaton good morning Burbage Capital is the owner of 7 Carlisle Street and a nearby property (37 Soho Square). Like many others we have invested in light of the ongoing improvement of the local area.

I wish to register our objections to the applications generally and specifically in view of the inevitability that :

Children will not be protected from harm Public Safety will be compromised Crime and Disorder will increase Public Nuisance will increase

Carlisle Street is a short cul-de-sac and the problems suffered by occupiers and owners will be exacerbated by the unacceptable intensification of use. I cannot imagine this is desirable in the context of the arrival of Crossrail 2 and the intended benefit to Soho and our great capital city.

Dear Sir/Madam

Ref: 14/06652/LIPV Vanity, 4 Carlisle Street, Soho

I write to make a relevant representation to the above application on behalf of the Soho Society.

The Soho Society is a charitable company limited by guarantee established in 1972. The Society is a recognised amenity society and was formed to make Soho a better place to live, work or visit by preserving and enhancing the area's existing diversity of character and uses, and by improving its facilities, amenities and environment. In particular, the Society supports the City Council's policies, including the cumulative impact policy, as set out in the Statement of Licensing Policy.

The Society objects to this application as it is currently presented, on the grounds of prevention of public nuisance, prevention of crime and disorder and cumulative impact in the West End Stress Area.

The application appears to seek operating hours until 3.30am Mon-Sat, and 1am on Sundays. This is clearly way beyond core hours and I see no reasonable explanation for the premises to be considered an exception to policy. The applicant also seeks removal of certain conditions appended to the current licence, notably those:

- containing dancing and striptease within the basement (15, 47)
- ensuring sale of alcohol is ancillary to music, dancing and refreshment (41e)
- ensuring substantial food and beverages are available (32)
- carefully monitoring the sale of intoxicating liquor (34a-f)
- requiring all premises licensees to possess the National Entertainment Licensees certificate or equivalent (30)

These conditions have been arrived at after years of long and fraught negotiation between past owners of the premises and residents of Carlisle Street – in particular, the residents immediately above – in order to strive for a harmonious co-existence. There can be no possible benefit whatsoever towards the licensing objectives by their removal as this will likely lead to increased public nuisance and cumulative impact in the immediate area, and therefore increased potential for crime and disorder.

This area has been identified by the City Council (2.4.1 of the Statement of Licensing Policy, as amended) as under stress because the cumulative effect of the concentration of late night and drink led premises and night cafes has led to serious problems of disorder and/or public nuisance affecting residents, visitors and other businesses.

The policies in relation to the Stress Areas are directed at the global and cumulative effects of licences on the area as a whole (2.4.5 of the Policy). The policies are intended to be strict and will only be overridden in genuinely exceptional circumstances (2.4.2 of the Policy).

For the reasons I have set out, we believe that the application, if granted in its present form, would fail to promote the licensing objectives of prevention of public nuisance and prevention of crime and disorder. I respectfully urge the Sub-Committee to reject this application.

Yours faithfully,

David Gleeson

Appendix B8

I am writing to object to the Premises Licence Variation (14/06652/LIPV) for Vanity at 4 Carlisle Street W1D 3BJ on the grounds of Public Nuisance and fail to see why the variation is thought to be improving the character and function of the city.

I have been a resident at no. 4 Carlisle Street since 1987 and bought my flat when the permitted use for the lower premises was a restaurant. Since then I have lived through a number of clubs in the lower floors.

There has always been a noise problem both internal and external. The core structure of 4 Carlisle Street was built in the 17th century and re-fronted in the 18th century and built as a house. It is not suited to the use for club or bar as sound is easily transmitted through the building. My bedroom is on 3rd floor and both dance music and karaoke from the basement were clearly audible there until Westminster Council enforced a condition that dance music should only be in the basement and insisted that the previous tenant incorporated high class quality insulation to protect the residents. There had been previous attempts at insulation but nothing satisfactory until then. You can still occasionally hear music from the basement but nothing on the previous scale. Ambient music was allowed in the Ground Floor bar and on the Mezzanine floor. On the whole this has worked very well. Dance music by its nature has an insistent beat and this was transmitted through the structure and I assure it is virtually impossible to sleep once the beat gets into your brain. It was also possible to sing along with the karaoke three stories up.

I am strongly against the change to condition 15, 24 and to changes to the layout by moving the stage to the ground floor and installing booths on ground and first floor. Having dance music on all three of the floors will be impossible to contain as the sound will be able to move through the voids of the staircase to all areas as well as through the structure. It will be particularly difficult for the first floor flat as the sound will be coming from the back of the flat as well as from underneath.

There will also be problems with external noise. There has always been a certain amount of activity from the club continuing out on the street but this increased substantially after the smoking ban. People went outside for a cigarette, then friends joined them and there they stay talking, laughing shouting, friends in cars come and join them and turn their music up, drinking. Carlisle Street is a cul-de-sac therefore no passing traffic, so customers stand or sit in the road, on the curb, on the steps of the empty building opposite and call across the street. The club owners always say that they can deal with this but they can't and don't. They will employ door staff but they do virtually nothing and may contribute to the problem. They don't want to remonstrate with customers because that is bad for business, they also say that it is not their customers causing the noise etc. etc.

There is the problem of people hanging around in our doorway both from the club and also the pub. The pub is now owned by Nag's Head, who do occasionally have a security person there but frequently I have to ask people to let me pass to get to my doorway or ask them to move from sitting on the doorstep or on opening the front door stumble over glasses and bags left on the doorstep. So this does not augur well for their control of noise and customers outside the club.

For the next three years I will have my 18 year old niece from Fiji staying with me during the university holidays. Finding men out for an evening at a sexual entertainment venue hanging round the front door, particularly with no restrictions on availability of alcohol will definitely be intimidating and not just to my niece.

As the club will be open long after public transport has closed down, presumably the club clientele will be using taxis and minicabs to go home. We have had problems with taxis hanging around outside with their engines running and ringing our doorbells in the early hours, thinking that the flats had requested the pick-up.

I am also against the changes to conditions 32, 34 and 41 which seem to be encouraging increases in alcohol consumption by allowing anybody to wander in off the street for a drink and by not providing any food to mop the alcohol up. This seems to contradict the Nag's Head variation application for a sexual entertainment licence in which they say that changing the club to a 'tableside dancing venue will facilitate the premises in attracting a clientele seeking entertainment rather than seeking the consumption of alcohol as a major part of their night out'.

Another concern is the request to remove condition 30 that 'all licensees possess the National Entertainment Licensees Certificate', which does not seem enhance the view of club owners as taking their responsibilities to their customers or neighbours seriously.

Finally, I am concerned about the length of the opening hours of the club. The various owners of the club premises have usually wanted to be open until 3 am and for a number of years, the hours were limited to 11.30pm during the week and 2am at weekends balancing the rights of the residents to quiet enjoyment of their homes and the requirements of the club.

In this application, there is no recognition of the rights of residents or the recognition of the disruption and difficulties that a club of this nature would cause and the applicant has made no effort to contact residents or businesses to discuss the proposals.

ref: PUBLIC NUISANCE

Dear Sir/Madam,

It has just been brought to my attention plans have been submitted to operate a lap dancing club in 4 Carlisle Street which also happens to be a residential premises where I and two other sets of neighbours live.

While I've not spoken to them about this application, I am sure they will be appalled.

Indeed I am outraged at the prospect of such an odious, exploitative sex industry launching underneath my flat also in 4 Carlisle Street - in short, this constitutes a public nuisance and that will be the main grounds of my objection.

The area is largely residential, quiet and on the fringe of Soho where the sex industries do not operate.

I have several grounds for objection, not least of all a sleazy industry which at best exploits female sex workers and at worst titillates men getting them into a sexually aroused state before letting them loose on our streets.

I would urge you to refuse this application because it is at odds with the gentile environment now operating in and around the Carlisle Street area. This sort of business was something which thrived in the 70s and 80s and is no longer an industry which suits Soho's increasingly sophisticated environment.

Apart from the obvious dangers of sexually aroused male predators stalking the area, I am also concerned about noise levels which would almost certainly spill on to the streets, possible disturbances from unhappy customers, noisy exits from customers and the common practice of hanging around such establishments waiting for the staff to leave.

Kindest regards

Yvonne Ridley

My name is Hugh Matheson. In 1985 I bought the freehold of No 4 Carlisle St from Paul Raymond and closed the Toulouse L'Autrec drinking club on the Ground Floor and the Doll's House Striptease and Nude Revue which was operating in the basement. I subsequently sold the freehold to My Conglomerate Ltd to operate a Tapas Bar and private members club with a licence to close at 11.00pm. I retained the second floor flat and have either occupied it or let it out off and on for the ensuing 28 years. I have objected to every extension of the licensed hours and to the various increases in the "right" to make disruptive noise under the music and dancing licence and since 1997 to the street noise from the smokers and their companions making merry in the cul de sac of Carlisle st. We have almost always been the losers in this process.

My principal objection is that when I arrived in Soho it was in the words of social and architectural historian Dan Cruikshank a "socially crunchy" area with many sex workers and drinking clubs with an air of Bohemian irresponsibility. Sadly Jeffrey Bernard is dead and his world has been replaced with far removed commercial organisations intent on exploiting the raffish history for maximum profit from drink and ersatz sex. The applicants have no stake in Soho. They do not live here and they do not have day jobs which start at 08.00. I doubt if the committee which hears this application will have any personal rather than political stake in Carlisle St and its spoliation. I do not like the building Robert Nadler has put up at the end of the street but he has put his mouth where his money is and I applaud his robust defence of the civil liberties of the residents.

I note that my objection should refer to;

1. Protection of Children from Harm. The sight of adults shouting and puking in the street (Whilst smoking) harms children. The sight of sad people in macs queueing to watch other men and women take their clothes off before all of them, watchers and strippers, go home to the suburbs, leaving the Council to clear up the mess with only our Council Tax to pay the bill probably harms children too. I did not send my son to the primary school 25 years ago for this reason.
2. Protection of public safety. Do fights happen outside pubs? ...er. you answer that.
3. Do people nick stuff and damage property when drunk? ...er. you answer that.
4. Prevention of public nuisance ... er. Am I describing a quiet well behaved cul de sac where retired gentry would like to live. Am I heck.

Many thank for reading this far.

Hugh Matheson

Appendix B11

To whom it may concern,

This letter is in regards to the Premises Licence Variation (14/06652/LIPV) for Vanity at 4 Carlisle Street W1D 3BJ. I object to this variation on grounds of Public Nuisance and I do not see in anyway how the change in Vanity is in the interest of the current residents and workers on Carlisle Street.

I am writing as the occupant of the flat on the 3rd floor on Carlisle Street where I live with my Aunt - Alice Dugdale, the owner. I am an 18 year old girl and will be living in the flat, my home in London, during my university holidays. If these changes are granted I will not find comfort in having the floors below me occupied by those drinking alcohol in the midst of sexual entertainment.

Currently, there are already noise problems experienced in the flat I occupy, which is on the top floor. These noises are not internal, but are from the general crowds that gather outside the Nellie Dean pub in the evenings. Fortunately this crowd tends to disperse around 11pm, however, as I understand it Vanity hopes to remain open till 3am. It would not befit a mainly residential street to have crowds of smokers in the street in the early morning hours. It is not the smoking that is the problem. It is the fact that there is always loud conversations that accompanies large groups of smokers outside establishments that serve alcohol.

I also assume that many of the customers attending Vanity will need taxis to leave after 12am. If this is the case, Carlisle street is very short and that taxi services will very quickly become a nuisance in the later evening to the residences in their homes. This is because there are rarely cars driving on Carlisle Street in the later evenings and these homes are not designed to keep out the noises of drunk people loudly getting into vehicles or taxis beeping their horns.

I sincerely hope that the changes are not permitted,

Yours sincerely,
Charlotte.

Appeal History

CANDY BAR, 4 CARLISLE STREET WC2

On 12th May 2005 application was received from Ms Lucas for conversion of the existing licence(s) under the Licensing Act 2003 and variation of that licence in respect of Candy Bar, 4 Carlisle Street WC2. The variation application sought to:

- (1) allow striptease entertainment provided by female performers in the basement stage area
- (2) allow the provision of licensable activities on Friday and Saturday to 3am on the day following
- (3) allow the provision of licensable activities on Monday to Thursday to midnight
- (4) allow the provision of licensable activities on Sunday preceding a Bank Holiday (except Easter Sunday) to 2am on the day following
- (5) allow the provision of licensable activities up to 2am for 12 events per calendar year on 48 hours notice to Police (such as Pride Weekend and Valentine's Day)
- (6) remove condition (8) from the Premises Licence which states "Striptease entertainment may only be provided in the basement area and shall only be permitted from 19 February 2005 to 19 August 2005"

Representations were made by the Police, the Environmental Health Consultation Team, the Soho Society; Association of Soho Residents and Businesses; Meard & Dean Street Residents' Association and one local resident.

On 5 July 2005 the Licensing Sub-Committee refused in part the variation application granting only variations 1 and 6 (as set out above). The application for conversion was granted.

Notice of appeal was lodged against the decision of the Licensing Sub-Committee. The Soho Society appeared as a party in their own right. The full hearing took place on 20 and 21 June 2006 at Horseferry Road Magistrates Court. The District Judge came to the conclusion that no exceptional circumstances had been made out, and the appeal was therefore dismissed. The Appellant was ordered to pay the City Council's costs in the total sum of £15,000.

CONDITIONS CONSISTENT WITH THE OPERATING SCHEDULE AND CONDITIONS PROPOSED BY A PARTY TO THE HEARING

When determining an application for variation of a premises licence under the provisions of the Licensing Act 2003, the licensing authority must, unless it decides to reject the application, grant the licence subject to the conditions which are indicated as mandatory in this schedule.

At a hearing the licensing authority may, in addition, and having regard to any representations received, grant the licence subject to such conditions which are consistent with the operating schedule submitted by the applicant as part of their application, or alter or omit these conditions, or add any new condition to such extent as the licensing authority considers appropriate for the promotion of the licensing objectives.

This schedule lists those conditions which are consistent with the operating schedule, or proposed as appropriate for the promotion of the licensing objectives by a responsible authority or an interested party as indicated. These conditions have not been submitted by the licensing service but reflect the positions of the applicant, responsible authority or interested party and have not necessarily been agreed
